I don't think I can be satisfied

What I want is too much too far.

I'm too bad at getting them done, getting them right.

Want an easy life but would I be satisfied?

Do I deserve it? Do I deserve a life?

What should I long for?

Things work in a wired way

I feel numb on everything.

My feeling tells me there's sth. ~~wrong~~ wrong

But I don't know why

Like valves being shut, feelings find no way out.

I don't feel good, but with nothing can do.

I even don't think I'm feeling.

It's like I myself been block out from the world,
struggling, but actually not changing anything.
